

Athletics Yukon Conflict of Interest Policy

Definitions:

“Individual” – All categories of membership defined in the Association’s Bylaws, as well as all individuals engaged in activities with the Association including, but not limited to, athletes, coaches, officials, volunteers, managers, administrators, committee members, and directors and officers of the Association

Introduction:

Conflicts of interest may arise from time to time in the affairs of Athletics Yukon where the private interests of an individual interfere with his/her official duties and responsibilities. The conflicts may be real or they may simply be perceived. In either case, Athletics Yukon should endeavour to protect itself, and individuals from potential legal difficulties and from poor public relations through an open and clear process that is widely circulated.

The following paragraphs outline principles and examples that should provide sound guidance to resolve potential conflicts. Good judgement will also be required in the application of the principles.

Objective:

The objective of the guideline is to enhance public confidence in the integrity of, and afford legal protection to, individuals of Athletics Yukon by establishing clear, transparent rules of conduct respecting conflict of interest for individuals.

Principles:

Individuals shall perform their official duties in a manner that will conserve and enhance public confidence and trust in the integrity, objectivity and impartiality of Athletics Yukon.

Individuals should not have private interests that would be affected by Athletics Yukon actions in which they participate.

Individuals shall not solicit or accept transfers of economic benefit, other than incidental gifts, customary hospitality, or other benefits of nominal value, from persons or organizations having dealings with Athletics Yukon unless the transfer is pursuant to an enforceable contract or property right of the individual. Such benefits may be accepted with the written consent of Athletics Yukon.

The basic principle is that neither benefits received nor private interests of an individual should influence the objectivity and impartiality of their judgements in the performance of their duties and responsibilities. Care must be taken to avoid being placed under obligation to any person or organization that might profit from special consideration by an individual.

Date Policy passed by the Athletics Yukon Board: January 22, 2019 Date of most recent amendment to the Policy: January 22, 2019
--

Compliance Measures:

Individuals can comply with the guidelines by:

- 1. avoiding activities or situations that would place them in a real, potential or apparent conflict of interest relative to their official duties and responsibilities.*
- 2. providing to Athletics Yukon a written statement indicating ownership of an asset, or receipt of a gift, hospitality or other benefit.*
- 3. where continued ownership would constitute a conflict of interest, divesting themselves of an asset or placing it in trust.*
- 4. where the individual is a board member, recusing themselves from board discussion and any voting associated with the real or perceived conflict, with the recusal noted in the minutes.*

Individuals should not participate in decisions from which they or their immediate family may derive a benefit, either directly or indirectly. Where discussions related to such decisions take place, the Individual must identify his/her potential conflict of interest and refrain from participating in the discussion and decision.

Negotiation of contracts for goods, services or employment should be reviewed by the Board of Directors to ensure that all potential conflicts are identified and resolved. In the situation where a conflict of interest is likely to arise due to the supply of goods or services by an individual to Athletics Yukon, proper and open tendering procedures must be followed. An individual may still receive a contract as long as all those making the decision are aware of the potential conflict and the decision is impartial.